Tax aspects of a capital withdrawal

The tax authorities may regard the capital withdrawal as circumvention if purchases were made within three years of any capital withdrawal. The tax authorities may consider all the 2nd Pillar pension arrangements of a person as a whole and generally do not recognise the deductibility of purchases made during this period. This may lead to a supplementary tax procedure. The insured is in any case responsible for the tax consequences of the capital withdrawal. It is recommended that prior clarification be obtained from the relevant tax authority.

Data protection

All personal data will be processed in accordance with the current legislation:

For compulsory occupational benefits, the data protection regulations of LOB (Art. 85a ff. LOB) apply. The provisions of the FADP apply in addition. The FADP applies to purely supplementary occupational benefits (for information e.g. identity and contact details of responsible persons, processing purposes, etc. can be found under the keyword data protection at www.servisa.ch.
